morning communion was administered, her victim lay, and the right-hand of fellowship was given and one by letter.

At Clay-Street Baptist church during the week one was baptized.

During the month there have been eighteen baptisms at Fulton church.

At Pine-Street Baptist church on Sunday morning Rev. J. B. Hutson preached day morning Rev. J. B. Hutson preached to a large congregation. In the afternoon a meeting was held to raise a subscription towards the completion of the new building. After a speech by the paster a collection was taken up and $2,800 was raised in cash and subscriptions.

At Grace-Street Baptist church Sunday morning and night Rev. W. J. E. Cox presched.

At the Second Presbyterian church Sunday morning Dr. Hoge preached and received ten persons into membership. In the afternoon the pulpit was filled by Rev. John McGill, of the Episcopal Church, who delivered a sermon of great power and elequence. Both services were attended by large congregations.

SEVENTH-STREET CHRISTIAN CHURCH. At this church on Sunday morning the Rev. J. Z. Tyler, formerly the beloved pastor of the church, but now of Augusta, Ga., preached. Mr. Tyler had been suddenly called to his old home at the dying request of an old friend, and after performing the last sad and sacred rites at his in the last sad and sacred rites at his control of the last sad and sacred rites at his in an unenviable position. grave concluded to remain in the city and preach to his old flock. His presence there was a delight to the members of the church, and drew, besides, numbers of those who knew Mr. Tyler and loved him when he lived among us. He preached with unusual force and effectiveness, and at the close of his sermon the friends present crowded around him and warmly welcomed him to their hearts and homes.

WARSHALL-STREET CHRISTIAN CHURCH. At the Marshall-Street Christian church Rev. L. A. Cutler preached to large congregations both morning and night.

The annual celebration of the Episcopal St. Paul's church at 4:30 o'clock in the alternoon.

The services consisted of song and praise and were conducted by Rev. H. M. Jackson, rector of Grace church. After the singing of Hymn 293, ten-minute speeches were made by each of the following gentle-men: Rev. W. Gordon, of Salem, Roanoke men: Rev. W. Gordon, of Saiem, Reambre county; Rev. Henderson Suter, D. D., of Alexandria, and Colonel John M. Patton. These speeches were followed by "Praise for Spiritual Blessings," "What Should Accompany Praise," and an "Offertory for the Church of the Holy Innocents, Burkfor Spiritual Blessings," "What Should Accompany Praise," and an "Offertory for the Church of the Holy Innocents, Burkville, Virginia"; after which the benediction was pronounced.

An immense congregation was present, and among the ministers who occupied seats in the chancel were the following:
Rev. Drs. Charles Minnigerode, Henderson Buter, J. Peterkin, H. M. Jackson, Rev. Messrs. Berkley, Aldrich, McCullough, Garnett, Campbell, Davis, Kimball, Goodwin, Williams, Hof, Hundley, Estell Page, H. D. and T. J. Page, J. J. Loyd, Otis Glazebrook, and Job Turner. Some twenty or thirty other clergymen were scattered over the church; also several lay delegates.

GRAND SUNDAY-SCHOOL ANNYERSARY.

The members and friends of Trinity Sunday school and church met Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock to celebrate the sixty-seventh anniversary of this school. The occasion was one of such deep interest that the church was filled to overflowing, and it was regretted that so many friends had to return home, as they could not even get standing-places.

The meeting was presided over by Mr.

Mr. George Voelker on the cornet. The whole of the afternoon exercises were under the direction of Mr. C. P. Rady.

Mr. Thomas W. Pemberton, who has been the superintendent of this school for the bear the pears, having been elected in 1848, had earefully prepared a complete and very interesting history of this the oldest school in Virginia, that has maintained an uninterrupted organization for sixty-seven years—from 1815 to 1883. He stated that the information relied on was obtained from Bev. Philip Courtney, Mrs. Fannie Eager, and George Whitfield, all of whom are now dead, and from Messrs. James Atkinson, John Nettles, and Robert A. Josephs, who are living witnesses, and the officers had to resort to their pistols to make their capture. Ganoway is fourtien years old, but is large for his age. He will be taken to Lancaster in the morning.

The Rest Of All.

A Reading (Pa.) telegram of Sunday says:
Officers arrived here to-day having in custody a boy named Jacob Ganoway, whom they had captured on the Stone Hill Branch of the Welsh mountains, on a charge of wreaking the freight train a few days ago, of the Welsh mountains, on a charge of wreaking the freight train a few days ago, of the Welsh mountains, on a charge of wreaking the freight train a few days ago, of the Welsh mountains, on a charge of wreaking the freight train a few days ago, of the Welsh mountains, on a charge of the valvas ago, of the Welsh mountains, on a charge of wreaking the freight train a few days ago, of the Welsh mountains, on a charge of the Welsh mountains, on a charge of the west ago, of the wreaking the freight train a few days ago, near Ephrata, on the Reading and Columbias and ankies, my shin-bones were covered with large ulcers and one mass of rotten fiesh, and the dorn almost unbearable. Church Notes.

Sunday was a notable day, so far as the weather was concerned, and the fitness of the proverbial expression "as mild as a May morning" was beautifully exemplified.

The eighty-eighth annual session of the Episcopal Council came to a close on Saturdsy, but a large number of the ministers in attendance remained in the city, occupying the pulpits of the various Episcopal churches, as well as some of those of other denominations, and lending by their presence an additional interest to the services.

Rev. J. W. Dowman, of West Point, has been called as assistant rector of St. Paul's

At Venable-Street Baptist church, on Sunday morning, Rev. R. H. Pitt pastor, preached his third anniversary sermon. He gave a synopsis of the work accomplished during the last pastoral year, which showed steady growth in every department of Christian work.

At Sidney Baptist church on Sunday morning communion was administered.

TROUBLED BY CONSCIENCE. Her conscience began to trouble her after a few weeks, and she told a woman friend of her terrible deed, who told her husband, and the husband conveyed the intelligence to the coroner, who, after empanelling a jury, visited the place and had the remains unearthed. The body was so decomposed as to prevent recognition. The

She was arrested and locked up to await trial at the October term of the Superior Court. Public feeling runs high on account of the discovery and the predicted at tunnel, when they went round,

A detachment of the Salvation Army began a campaign at New Haven, Ct., Sunday. The members spoke and sang to an audience of 2,500 in the afternoon and 4,000 in the evening. The services were orderly.

Makoff, president of the Society for Regulating the president of the Society for Regulating the Social Condition of Russian Jews, who committed suicide a few weeks ago. The report which prevailed that M. Makoff's suicide was due to peculations on his part are, therefore, considered groundless.

Michael Haley, of Memphis, Saturday chastised his son Patrick, aged twenty years, on complaint of a colored man named Dunlap, sexton of the Avery Chapel colored church. Just after dinner young egations both morning and night.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CELEBRATION.

The annual celebration of the Episcopal and sy-School Union took place Sunday at severing his head from his body. The murdered man was seventy-five years old, Haley escaped. The members of an organization styled the Sons of Liberty met in New York Sun-day night and denounced the Brooklyn-bridge authorities for holding the opening ceremonies on the Queen of England's birthday. They also resolved to absent themselves from the proceedings. It was the intention of the meeting to burn the Queen in effigy, but the presence of a force of police prevented this demonstration.

"About this time Whitewood creek, which runs through the city, left its banks and began its first work of destruction, increasing every minute in volume, sweeping houses down the stream and cutting into the bank at places to a depth of 100 yards. In a few hours over seventy houses had been washed away. But for the timely news it is impossible to say what the number of deaths would have been. Over one half of Deadwood is swept away, but fortunately leaving the substantial portion of the city, on Main street, stranding. The loss in this city is estimated at $600,000. Basket communication has been established between the separated portions of the city. The only deaths now known are George Chandler and his wife and a hired man and another man, whose names are unknown. "About this time Whitewood creek, another man, whose names are unknown,

Rev. J. W. Dowman, of West Point, has been called as assistant rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in this city. He preached a fine sermon at St. Paul's Sunday night. It is understood that he has decided not to leave his present promising field at West Point.

It was expected that Bishop Whittle, who sails for Europe shortly, would Sunday night at St. James church preach his farewell sermon, but owing to his indisposition it was impossible for him to do so. Rev. F. M. Burch, of Accomac, has accepted a call to the assistant rectorship of St. John's church in this city, and will enter upon his duties on the 15th of Jame.

AN INDESCRIBABLE CALAMITY. A dispatch from Mend, Dak., says: "It is impossible to describe the condition of the crops between this place and Deadwood, or to imagine the destitution that wood, or to imagine the destitution that has followed the flood. The telegraphines are down and cannot be repaired. Men sent out to-day narrowly escaped drowning, and returned without success." Information from Rapid City, Dak., says: "The disastrous flood of Deadwood is upon us. The city is entirely surrounded by water, and many buildings will be swept away. The Rapid-City Valley, more than forty miles in length, all of which has already been seeded, is entirely submerged. The amount of damage done in this valley alone cannot be estimated. Many of the houses up the valley are being washed houses up the valley are being washed away, and probably many lives will be lost. An entire destruction of the coming crop may be expected."
